State Department Inquired If American Sailors Were Released

By Robert J. Bender.
(United Press staff correspondent.) Washington, Feb. 16.—Germany has been formally asked if the American Yarrowdale prisoners have been released as stated in press dispatches, the state department announced today.
The note containing a demand for the release of the prisoners, which was prepared yesterday by the department, is being held up, pending a reply from the imperial government to the inquiry sent today.

Dr. Ritter Called.
Washington, Feb. 16.—The Swiss minister, Dr. Paul Ritter, called at the state department today and held a short conference with Counselor Polk.
While the department at first refused to discuss the visit and Dr. Ritter also was silent, it was believed it may have had something to do with the reported release of the 72 Yarrowdale prisoners by Germany.

Barkentine Arrives Fifty Days Overdue

Port Angeles, Wash., Feb. 16.—Fifty days overdue, the barkentine Retriever dropped anchor in Clallam bay today.
All provisions had been exhausted since February 8, Captain Ross, his wife and 13 sailors aboard were half starved and nearly exhausted. Several seamen were immediately brought ashore for medical attention.
The Retriever left Port Adelaide 122 days ago for Aberdeen, Wash. When near the American coast adverse winds were encountered. For weeks Captain Ross attempted to make port, but without success.
When food and water ran low all hands were put on short rations. After the last provisions were gone a passing vessel was hailed and asked to send help.
In response, the tug Prosper put to sea and after scouting along the coast several days sighted the Retriever's distress signal. Food was immediately carried aboard. Taking the barkentine in tow, the tug arrived off Clallam bay late last night.
Captain Ross said that his craft was driven out of the usual sea lanes, which accounts for him not being rescued sooner.

COLONIAL GARDENS RAIDED

Tacoma, Wash., Feb. 16.—In the raiding of the Colonial Gardens farm in the Payallup valley, city and county authorities believed today they had tapped the fountain head of the illicit trade in wines which it is charged has been carried on here for some time.
In the buildings of the company which is the largest distributor of vegetables in this district, was found machinery for the manufacture of wine in a considerable scale, as well as seven barrels of wine and a number of casks of hard cider, all of which was confiscated.
Three of the proprietors were arrested.

The first teachers of the Salem high school and the Albany high school will play this evening at the old armory over the city hall, the game beginning at 7:30 o'clock. This is in the way of a return game for Albany and quite a number of the Albany students are here to boost for their home players.

Phillip Robin, recruiting officer for the station at Salem, is home from a week's visit at Albany, Corvallis and other points. He secured two entu-siasm and reports prospects good for others. Since the government is offering so many advantages to young men in the way of opportunities for study and promotions, many young men are easing their lot with the army.

Judge P. H. D'Arcy is home from a visit in Marshfield in his official capacity as district deputy grand exalted ruler of the B. P. O. E. In an interview granted the Coos Bay Times, the judge acknowledged that he is a Salem pioneer with the distinction of having lived in Salem for 50 years on lot 1, block 1, and precinct 1, of ward 1. Also that when he was a boy he played home run ball on the present site of the Oregon capitol building.

The home of Miss Nellie Taylor, one and one-half miles from Salem on the Wallace road, was destroyed by fire last evening about 7 o'clock. The fire originated in a defective flue. The loss is partially covered by insurance. Most of the household effects including Miss Taylor's clothing were in the second story and were burned. She was formerly a teacher in the Salem public schools.

The surplus potatoes raised by the Oregon state hospital have been sold at different times at prices much in advance of former years. But this year, there has been a scarcity and Oregon was fortunate in raising a big crop. One lot was sold by Dr. Steiner some time ago for $1.55 a bushel and a few days ago another lot was disposed of at $2 a bushel, which figures about $5.33 a bushel.

Plans and specifications will be presented at the meeting of the city council next Monday evening for the paving of 16 blocks that will give the residents of Highland paved streets into the business part of the city. On Church street, it is proposed to pave from Mill creek to D street and from D to Fifth street on out to Highland. Additional paving will be proposed on D street from Church to the end of the present paving, about two blocks. After the plans and specifications have been presented to the council, it will take the usual course of advertising for remonstrance.

The first annual roll call and reunion of the members of the Baptist church closed with a session last evening at the church with an attendance of more than 200. The roll call of the afternoon session began with a Bible reading by the pastor to which 50 responses were made. During the social period from 5 until 7 o'clock, refreshments were served by the Woman's Industrial society of the church of which Mrs. Samuel Vail is president. Mrs. Martha Calvert, who attended the sessions, had the distinction of being a member of the church longer than any present, as she has been associated with the Baptist church for 45 years.

sented to the city council Monday evening for the paving of 11 blocks of Fairmount hill which will make it one of the most desirable resident sections of the city. The proposed paving includes five streets—three blocks on Washington, between Superior, two on Fairmount, two on Fir and one block on Luther street. After the plans are presented to the council, and the property owners have selected the kind of paving, there will be the regular proceedings. The council will advertise for remonstrances, and if the owners of two thirds of the superficial area affected do not object, work will begin on the paving as soon as the 10 block on South Commercial street are finished.

OUCH! LUMBAGO?

Try Musterole. See How Quickly
It Relieves

You just rub Musterole in briskly, and usually the pain is gone—a delicious, soothing comfort comes to take its place.
Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Use it instead of mustard plaster. Will not blister.
Many doctors and nurses use Muste-role and recommend it to their patients.
They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). Always dependable.
